Tingley Automatic Heat Governor.

Price Reduced Until the First of July Next.

Drive attached to furnace $38. Better pay for a Governor that will surely prevent the escape of poisonous gases from your furnace, than save your money, and breathe a tainted atmosphere, suffer from the inconvience of coal dust, unevenly heated rooms, and danger from fire. You need a Governor more in the Spring months when you use the dangerous smoke pipe damper to check the fire.

THE NEW
REMINGTON
Sewing Machine
STILL STANDS
UNRIVALLED.

All competent judges acknowledge it to be the simplest, the easiest, the quietest and the most easily handled of any shuttle machine now in market. It will sew with perfect stitch, from the finest muslin to the heaviest and firmest beaver cloth or leather, without change of stitch, needle, thread or tension. Its percentage of increase of sales in 1874 was only ten per cent, and 1875, nine per cent. more than any other machine. In 1875 the ratio of increase was still greater, being 16 per cent. More than fifteen thousand other machines of first class make have already been exchanged for it.

No person wishing a sewing machine can do themselves justice, whatever their prejudice, if they fail to examine the New Remington before purchasing. Five dollars a month will buy you a Remington at 25 BROADWAY.

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 23, 1876.

SUNDRIES.

A RHYMED RIDDLE.

"I'm going to ——," with failing breath,
"The fallen gladiator said,
Unconquered, he consents to death,"
One gasp—the hero soul has fled.
"I'm going to ——," the school-boy cried;
The wizard waves his hands display,—
Like snow flakes in the ocean tide
They vanish, melted both away.
Tell with one herb, or I'll tell you,
What each was just about to do.
—O. W. Holmes, in Fair Words.

"Succumb," the gladiator groans,
And breathes away his life with moans;
"Suck 'em," the schoolboy exclaims glee—
You bet-ch'r life, I do," Holmes, tell me."
SCOFFS.

A man with a cast in his eye—the sculptor.

A sanitary measure—a medicine glass.

A flourishing business—Ornamental penmanship.

Cheese kept ten years must be somewhat decade.

Some hens are like married people, and bear a double yoke.

No man's life is so full of ups and downs as he who runs an elevator.

This weather makes influenzal citizens.—[Boston Post.

When is the baby like a canister? When it is a tin thing.

A good lawyer is not a necessity, for necessity knows no law.

If crying babies had any sense they never would take their mothers to matinees.

How to carry the least virtue and get the most credit for it, is a problem of the age.

Never hurry. More men have died from getting out of breath than for any other reason.

The arithmetics continue to insist that ten mills make a cent but we can name ten in Rhode Island that don't do it.

Charles Dudley Warner tells of a pious young man who boasted that he taught a Sunday school class of young ladies, every one of whom wore six buttoned kid gloves.

It is curious that men should resent more fiercely what they suspect to be good verses than what they know to be bad morals.—[J. R. Lowell.

How a man can afford to give away an eighteen dollar chromo with a pound of dollar tea puzzles the people who don't know the immense profits made on teas.—[Detroit Free Press.

The New York papers tell about a "drawback on sugar." That's nothing. There has been a fearful pull-back on "asses all Summer.—[Chicago Tribune.

A New York temperance lecturer says one of the chief causes of the present financial depression is alcoholic indulgence. The Boston Post asks: "Does he mean to say that money is 'tight'?"

"Jennette, your conduct was perfectly proper in kissing the young man when he so requested, in order to 'assist him in discovering whether it would make the gas flicker or not.' Slight deviations from strict deportment may always be made while investigating scientific operations."

A country editor received the following: "Dear Sir—I have looked carefully and patiently over your paper for six months for the death of some individual I was acquainted with, but as yet not a soul I care anything about has dropped off; you will please have my name erased."

A Frenchman who has lived in America for some years says: "When they build a railroad the first thing they do is to break ground. This is done with great ceremony. Then they break the stockholders. This is done without ceremony."

IMPORTANT!

THE UNDERSIGNED HAS JUST RECEIVED THE
LA BASTIE CHIMNEY,
WHICH HAS CREATED A GREAT EXCITEMENT IN THE MARKET.
YOU CAN THROW IT A DISTANCE OF FOUR RODS IN AN OPEN FIELD AND IT WILL NOT BREAK. YOU CAN THOW WATER ON IT, AND IT WILL NOT BREAK.

You need not be afraid that it will break, should you let it fall upon the floor while cleaning it. It fits the A. Sun Burner and is similar to the Buck chimney. The public are invited to CALL AND SEE THIS WONDERFUL ARTICLE AND THUS SAVE MONEY BY SECURING THEM FOR USE.

THE DAY.

Admiral Wellesley has arrived in England

Godlove S. Orth, our minister at Vienna, was unanimously nominated for governor of Indiana by the Republicans yesterday. The convention favors the nomination of Mr. Morton for the Presidency.

The Democratic national committee met in Washington yesterday and selected St. Louis as the place and the 27th of June as the time for holding the convention for nominating a candidate for the Presidency.

If Mr. Storrs, Gen. Babcock's counsel, could have compared President Grant's deposition to something besides Christ's sermon on the mount, it would have pleased some critical people.

The Hartford Times says it is "not aware of any Democratic paper in New Haven or Connecticut which supports the inflation or paper money doctrine." The Springfield Republican aptly replies that the Times should exchange with the New Haven Register.

The Burlington, Iowa, Hawkeye would be willing to vote for Senator Burnside next Fall. It says:—"General Burnside is a native of Indiana, a distinguished soldier, a thoroughly honest man and one in whom the entire country can have confidence. He has hosts of friends, but is a little outside the limits of the Presidential arena."

The Brooklyn advisory council held its secret session yesterday, and discussed the various questions contained in the letter-missive. A heated debate is reported to have occurred over the proposition to hold another investigation into the charges against Mr. Beecher—a full and thorough sifting of all the facts in the case to be made. No decision was reached. It is also rumored that Mr. Moulton will be accorded a further hearing on his accusations against the Plymouth pastor.

The prohibitory convention at Providence yesterday was attended by Messrs. Swan, T. P. and W. G. Peckham, Chambers, Cox and Pearce of this city, Bradbury of Portsmouth and Macomber of New Shoreham. There were delegates from Jamestown, Middletown, Tiverton and Little Compton. C. Howard was nominated for governor, A. B. Chadsey for lieutenant governor, J. M. Addeman for secretary of state, Warren R. Perce for attorney general and A. D. Vose for general treasurer. J. E. Macomber of Portsmouth was elected a member of the state central committee for Newport county.

STATE MISCELLANY.

The Woonsocket Patriot, one of the best weekly papers in the country, makes the announcement that a daily paper will soon be issued from its office.

Interesting revival meetings are being held at the Clark's Falls school house, Westerly, by the Rev. Charles T. Douglass, pastor of the Second Baptist church, North Stonington. Twenty-six conversions have resulted so far, and the meetings are being continued nightly, with marked success.

A large Newfoundland dog, supposed to be rabid, was shot last Saturday afternoon by Mr. Sylvester Tourjee, in North Kingstown, after he had bitten four or five other dogs between the Davisville station and the Devil's Foot Rock, besides about two dozen hens, all of which have since been killed by their owners.

In the United States circuit court at Boston, Friday, before Justices Shepley and Knowles, a hearing was commenced on a bill in equity brought by the children of Edwin Hoyt, deceased, claiming that as heirs and next of kin of the late William Sprague, deceased, they are entitled to have the fund in the hands of Z. Chafee, trustee for the creditors of A. & W. Sprague Manufacturing Company, charged with the payment to them of such sum of money as upon an accounting shall be found to be their due, the bill alleging that at the time of the formation of the corporation of the A. & W. Sprague Manufacturing Company, the complainants were minors, and that their guardian had no legal right to invest their distributive shares in William Sprague's estate in the stock of the A. & W. Sprague Manufacturing Company.

From the returns of births, marriages, and deaths made in the town clerk's office of Kingston for the year 1875, we have obtained the following statistics: Whole number of births, 87, 12 less than last year; 49 were males and 38 were females; 10 were of foreign, and 77 of American parentage. The whole number of marriages during the year was 35. The entire number of deaths was 91, of whom 49 were males and 42 were females; 79 were of American parentage, 9 of foreign, and 3 of mixed parentage. The oldest person was 92 years; 16 were over 70 years of age, and 21 were under 5 years of age.

NO HELP FOR IT.

He carried my satchel to school,
And me through the drifts carried too:
Could I think why he hugged me so closely?
If I couldn't, how could I?—could you?

At eve he hid under my chin
My hood, with its ribbons so blue;
Why he gazed in my face could I tell?
If I couldn't, how could I?—could you?

He told me my eyes were quite black,
And the brightest of any he knew;
I blushed and looked down—could I help
If I couldn't, how could I?—could you?

He left on my cheek a warm kiss,
Then off with the lightning sped he;
If I could I'd have scolded him soundly;
If I couldn't, how could I?—could you?

'Twas long years ago; and since then
He has spoken words loving and true;
And now I lean close, as his wife,
To his breast. Can I help it?—could you?

OFFICE WORTHY RECORDER,
UNION TEMPLE OF HONOR No 13.
FEB. 18, 1876.

At a special meeting held after the return of the temple from the funeral Sunday the following resolutions were unanimously passed:

WHEREAS it has pleased Almighty God to remove from us by death, our beloved brother Alex. E. Hoffey, therefore,

Resolved, That in the death of our departed brother this temple has met with a great loss, the loss of one consistent in his membership, honest, just and faithful in all the varied relations of life, as a man, a Christian and a brother, in all of which relations he ever sought faithfully to follow the path of duty and to "walk worthy of the vocation whereunto he was called."

Resolved, That we cherish the memory of our departed brother's many virtues, as a precious heritage and of his fidelity as an example for us to be like him faithful and true in the duties of this life so that when called hence like him we may ascend to that higher Temple "not made with hands, eternal in the heavens" to receive the reward he has received of "a good and faithful servant."

Resolved, That we hereby tender to his afflicted family and all connected with him our heartfelt sympathy, and our earnest wish that in their sad affliction they may be consoled by the presence of him who alone can comfort and help the broken-hearted, and who has himself pronounced upon the afflicted the sweet benediction "Blessed are they that mourn; for they shall be comforted."

Resolved, That in respect for the memory of our deceased brother the charter of our temple be draped in mourning and that the members wear the usual badge of mourning for the space of 30 days.

Resolved, That the Worthy Recorder is hereby directed to cause a copy of these resolutions to be sent to the family of our deceased brother and be published in the NEWPORT DAILY NEWS and also that they be placed on the records of this Temple.

J. R. PALMER,
Worthy Recorder.

Accounts to the amount of $18.05 were allowed and ordered to be paid from the town treasury.

PORTSMOUTH.

Sunday being a very pleasant day, the attendance at the churches was good. The several pastors officiated, with the exception that the pulpit of the Christian church was supplied by the Rev. Ellen Gustin afternoon and evening. She preaches several times during the present week. On Tuesday evening a temperance meeting was held at the Christian church and addressed by Mrs. Gustin and others.

Mr. William Borden and Mr. Charles C. Slocum started for Florida last week. They will probably be absent until Spring opens.

BLOCK ISLAND.

A more than usual religious interest has existed for the past month; and since New Year's this interest has been constantly increasing in both churches. At present meetings are held by both churches every evening of the week, protracted very frequently until ten o'clock. The little church building upon the west side, occupied by the Free Baptist church, will often contain but a third of those who seek admittance.

Sunday, the 6th inst., three were baptized into the First Baptist church, and on the 13th inst., a larger crowd, composed entirely of island people, collected by the little pond upon the west side to witness the baptismal ceremony, than ever before came together upon the island. The First Baptist church, accompanied by their pastor, adjourned in a body to the scene, and it was estimated that 800 people were present—two thirds of the island population.

Nine were received into the Free Baptist church by baptism, the ceremony being performed by their pastor, the Rev. Mr. Wheeler, assisted by the pastor of the First church.

Others will be baptized by the First church on the 20th inst. A deep religious feeling pervades the whole island. M.

Congressman Landers of Indiana tells this one himself: Some one introduced him in Washington to a southern member, who immediately asked him to take a drink. "I never drink," replied Mr. Landers. The other eyed him over and then inquired: "Are you a Democrat?" "Yes sir." The man looked at him with great contempt and then remarked: "Then, by——, sir, I advise you to change your politics."—[Norwich Bulletin.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

—The members of the Newport Ice Company have returned home.

—A salute was fired from the torpedo station yesterday at noon.

—The wrecking schooner Young America is receiving a new boiler at Fall River.

—The Father Matthew Temperance Society now numbers over 225 members.

—Mr. Bellow's reading at the Opera House in behalf of Emmanuel church is unavoidably postponed.

—Charles Carrol, formerly editor of the DAILY NEWS, was married in Providence today. We congratulate him.

—All of our florists had their hands full yesterday in supplying the home as well as the New York demand for flowers.

—Mr. and Mrs. Louis L. Lorillard left New York on Saturday for Florida, where they will remain for six weeks.

—A ball occurred at Jamestown last evening and quite a number of Newporters were present. Swan furnished the music.

—Mr. Thomas Stevens who has been confined to his house for several weeks past by a broken ankle, is able to be out again.

—The wedding of James Gordon Bennett is positively announced to take place in April. He will spend the Summer here.

—Some one well acquainted with the store of C. H. Fresch broke in Sunday night and helped himself to the excellent stock of candies.

—The city council went to Middletown this afternoon to look at the route of the proposed road from Bliss road to the East end of Easton's beach.

—Henry Bellow was suddenly called to New York last evening, his mother having been stricken with paralysis in that city a few hours previous.

—The Artillery Company celebrated yesterday by a street parade in the morning, a salute of a hundred guns at noon, and a very successful ball in the evening.

—The report that Mrs. A. H. Carson, the victim of the recent outrage, was dead is untrue. She is ill, however, and her physicians think her condition critical.

—The sabbath school of the Thames-street church, assisted by musical talent from other churches, will give a concert and exhibition at the church on Friday evening next.

—Joseph Howard, a former member of the Newport band, who went to England a few months ago, has returned to town and will make Newport his home for the future.

—The schooner Jesse Williamson, Jr., which was ashore last November in the upper harbor and which has been laid up here all Winter, will be taken to Portsmouth N. H., where she belongs, the first favorable opportunity.

—The children's entertainment at the Opera House at two o'clock tomorrow afternoon promises to be as delightful as it is unique. By all means take the children to see it. Lest there should be a crowd the bad ones might be left at home.

—At a meeting of the historical society, Monday night, Mr. Rhoades resigned the treasurership, and was succeeded by Benjamin Marsh, 2nd, who, with Mrs. Marsh, and P. G. Harris was elected a member. The reading of Col. Brinley's paper on Judge Byfield was postponed.

—The son of Alexander Frazure, aged two years, was fatally scalded at the Beaver Tail light house on Monday, by falling into a tub of hot water. He lived until yesterday when death came to his relief. He was a grandson of W. Wales, the keeper of the light.

—Robert H. Scott, a waiter on board of the steamer Providence, has just been sentenced to three years imprisonment at Sing Sing, for stealing some articles from a drummer on the night of November 11th, when the steamer's bulkhead was stove in and there was a panic among the passengers.

—The Rev. J. P. Bodfish will lecture at the Opera House March 29th, on "How I became a Catholic," under the auspices of the Newport Catholic Literary Society. Mr. Bodfish is a son of the Rev. Asa N. Bodfish, formerly pastor of the Thames-street Methodist Episcopal church.

—The Knights of Pythias had a very pleasant entertainment at their lodge room Monday evening and the hall was filled with their friends. James B. Brayton read an article on the history of the order from the beginning to the present time and Howard Smith read several excellent selections with much ability. The singing was excellent.

—Thomas Dargan aged 50 years went up the flag-staff on the state house on Monday and rove the halyards which had come unroved. The distance is 41 feet. Quite a large number of spectators were present. He almost reached the top twice and then was obliged to slide down again. It is regarded a remarkable feat for a man of his age.

—The Ancient Order of Hibernians have voted to parade on St. Patrick's day. The order is growing and has received into its ranks some of the best element of our Catholic population. None are admitted who are under 20 years or over 40 years of age. They have engaged the First Artillery orchestra for their grand ball at the Aquidneck assembly rooms on the evening of St. Patrick's day.

THAT METIS MEDAL.—Mr. Gavitt of Westerly whose Metis gold medal turned up in Boston the other day where it was sold for old gold says that he sent it to a jeweler in Boston to be made into a watch case, as he had been told this could be done without melting over the medal, or effacing the designs on it. A watch case came back which he supposed was all right, but the sale of the original medal in Boston shows that the dishonest jeweler imitated the faces of the medal in a cheap watch case, and sold the original for its metallic value. Mr. Gavitt is trying to get possession of his property.

THE ELOQUENCE OF THE CRAYON.—We call attention to the advertisement in today's issue of the lecture tomorrow evening at the Opera House. Prof. Regamy has been in this country but a short time and his knowledge of English is not extensive. But his happy manner atones to his audience for his lack of fluency, and his astonishing skill with the crayon, the rapidity of his work, and the wonderful expression which he throws into his sketches make explanation superfluous. His first appearance in this country in public was at Music Hall in Boston, where at the close of his delineations he was called out three times to receive the plaudits of a critical Boston public. Since then he has given exhibitions in various New England cities, and always with great acceptance to his audiences. The novel character of the entertainment and the reputation of Prof. Regamy assure an entertainment which none of our readers should miss.

THE ARTILLERY BALL.

The ball of the Artillery Company was a grand success. The attendance was quite large, considering the accommodation, there being about 110 persons present. The hall was brilliantly lighted, and the glistening muskets, sabres and decorations, together with the gay dresses of the dancers made quite a brilliant effect. The supper room was certainly a picture. Men had been engaged all day in its decoration and were quite successful. The casement was used as the supper room, at the entrance of the stairs leading to which was a half canopy formed of a huge flag. Descending to the supper room an exceedingly pretty sight met the view, for it appeared to be one mass of flags nicely entwined together with one or two mottoes. The tables also were admirably laid out, the viands upon which were done full justice to. After supper the party again repaired to the dance hall or armory, where everybody joined the Terpsichorean exercises with a vigor. It should be mentioned that the supper was cooked by the committee in the rear of the basement. Among some of the more prominent persons present were Officers Powel, Sherman, Vaughn, assistant Surgeon J. H. Taylor and A. Prescott Baker, chairman of the committee, all in uniform. On the front of the neat programme was the arms of the company, with date of charter, and the words, "Centennial Fund" Ball, and on the back of it were the following names of floor directors: Quartermaster, Mr. George H. Vaughn; aids, Quartermaster Sergeant James T. Powel, Corporal H. E. Turner, Jr., Privates Thomas Sherman, William S. Bryer, R. C. Cottrell, John F. Stacy. The Newport band and orchestra contributed to make everything pleasant.—[Providence Journal.

FANCY DRESS BALL.

A very elegant fancy dress ball was given last evening at the residence of J. N. A. Griswold, on Bellevue avenue. The house was beautifully decorated, the music was fine, and the guests, a hundred or more in number, in their rich and varied costumes made a scene of great brilliance. Mrs. Griswold received her guests in the style of the Middle Ages, even to the hawk on her hand. The following are a few of the more noticeable costumes at the ball:—

Mrs. Abbott Lawrence appeared as a Hungarian queen, in a black velvet robe and a crown.

Mrs. Dr. Wheeler wore a marvellous and appropriate costume denominated a doctor's gig. The design on the front of the skirt was a dash-board, and Mrs. Wheeler wore an old fashioned "calash" which was decidedly suggestive of a chaise top.

Mrs. Eyre represented Winter. She wore a silver cloth dress of a frosty appearance, and carried for a muff a huge snow ball of swan's down. Smaller snow balls of the same delicate material were used for pelting the company.

Miss Jane Stuart in a scarlet dress and imposing plumes represented the Proud Sister.

The Misses Newman represented a Patent Medicine Vender and Fun.

Miss Bellow had a Plutonian aspect, her dress being covered with little devils in various horrible attitudes.

Miss Hunter was Mrs. Centennial. She wore a brocade dress one hundred and fifty years old. It was adorned with chatelaines of various ancient bric-a-brac and some antique pictures among which was one on ivory of her grandfather when he was six years old.

Miss Minnie Griswold appeared as a little Turk.

Miss Tucker was an abbess and Miss Byrd Tucker was a Dalmatian girl.

Mrs. Edgar kept a peanut stand which was sadly molested by some unsophisticated young people from the country among whom were Miss Temple, Col. Waring and Leslie Pell-Clarke. Mr. Clarke later in the evening appeared as Henry V.

Miss Simpson appeared as a fortune teller.

Miss Tyrrell personated an Indian princess.

Mr. Bently attracted much attention as an Albanian gentleman. Mr. Creighton appeared as Shylock. Mr. Deacon represented a Polish count.

Journalism was represented by Mr. Ford, Col. Higginson and Mr. Dodge. The two latter represented respectively the DAILY NEWS and the Mercury, and were well covered with the heads of those papers.

Dr. Samuel W. Francis represented a sailor. Mr. Hunter appeared as a centennial commissioner. He was dressed in the most ancient style possible and presented a most venerable appearance. He made a funny speech in behalf of the centennial.

Mr. Forsyth was an English groom, and Samuel Powel, Jr., and Mr. Collin were French cooks.

There were quite a number of sailors, jockeys, and Spanish ladies. There were a Marguerite whose admirable "make up" attracted attention, and several representations of Mephistopheles. Dr. Mercer, Col. Paine, Capt. Marin and several officers from Fort Adams were present.

The ball was one of the most delightful affairs that Newport society has enjoyed.

The first carriage arrived shortly before nine o'clock and from that time until midnight vehicles dashed up to the doorway. On the entrance of guest or guests their names, or rather those their dresses represented, were announced by two men dressed as lackeys of a century ago, one being a gentleman of color and the other a poor white. The mistakes made by these individuals in making the announcements created much merriment, the corrections being made by a gentleman who once had a connection with Emmanuel church. The floral decorations of the two large rooms in which the guests danced were magnificent and are said to have cost over $1500. The supper was, as might be supposed, elegant in the extreme.

PERIODICALS.

SCRIBNER'S MONTHLY.

Scribner's Monthly for March is full of interesting matter and the excellent illustrations for which this magazine is noted. One of the principal articles in this number is a description of the character and works of the great French novelist, Honore De Balzac. Parents and teachers will probably turn first to Edward Eggleston's copiously illustrated article on Froebel, the inventor of the kindergarten. There is a great deal in this paper that all who have to control and teach children should know. William Claiborne Brocklesby writes entertainingly about Trinity College. The first illustration is of the splendid buildings as they are to appear. Revolutionary memories are kept alive by an article on Truro Parish, one of the many places associated with Washington's name, and more Revolutionary letters. Dorsey Gardner writes about Wilson the ornithologist. Philip Nolan's Friends is continued. A devoted admirer of Charles Lamb gives the result of a pilgrimage to Elia's grave. There are good short stories by Edward Bellamy and George W. Cable. Gabriel Conroy gains in interest though no hint is given of how things are going to come out.

In Topics of the Time, Dr. Holland discusses "Literary Virility," "The Common Schools," and "Public Halls." The Old Cabinet has something about "Raunscheidt versus Buncombe," "The Defects in Works of Genius," "Originality and Imitations," and other matters. A new feature appears in Home and Society, namely, a number of paragraphs on rural topics by Mr. H. T. Quinn, the well-known agricultural writer, in which specific directions are given for the laying out of small places. In Bric a-Brac may be found a little poem by the late Professor Morse, hitherto unpublished.

THE GALAXY.

In the Galaxy for March E. G. Holland discusses Church and State in a thoughtful and wise way. He presents problems that American citizens must accustom themselves to face. An anonymous writer prescribes as a remedy for hard times the expenditure of money on private enterprises and public works. If he means that capitalists and governments should take advantage of the low price of labor and materials he is doubtless quite right, but if he means that the government must provide work for those whom the state of trade has thrown out of employment he is quite wrong. Justin McCarthy writes about Vivian Grey Grown Old, and concludes that Disraeli's reputation is wholly ephemeral. Gen. Custer revives memories of the war in his peculiarly interesting style. Under the title of A Pugilist of the Press Albert Rhodes writes about Louis Veuillot, editor of the Paris Univers. Several chapters of Madcap Violet are given and the heroine is presented in a better light than hitherto. There is a poem by Joaquin Miller,—the Ideal and the Real. There are sketches of Tahite, and Aztec Society. J. W. De Forest gives a story,—Teschel. Annie Howell's story, Reuben Dale, is continued. J. H. Siddons gives interesting reminiscences of Coleridge and his associates. Driftwood treats of The Jubilee Year and A Truthful James, alias Jimmie Blanchard. The other editorial departments are full of interest.

ST. NICHOLAS.

Of the contents of this month's St. Nicholas, Mr. Whittier's poem, "The Pressed Gentian," will probably be the most widely enjoyed. The true and tender verses read so charmingly alongside the bright stories and sketches for the children, and in that position reveal so clearly the child-heart of the great man, that the poem certainly appears to excellent advantage. "The Pressed Gentian" is written in his sweet, rhythmic style, and is full of his poetic feeling. It will be welcomed everywhere.

Next in interest, perhaps, are the installments of the serials—Mr. Brooks's story containing an exceedingly vivid and realistic description of a "Buffalo Stampede," and Mr. Bayard Taylor's, a fine picture of the wonder and stupefaction of an Icelandic boy at his first view of the sights of Scotland.

Foreign scenery, indeed, enters largely into the composition of the number, since Mr. Charles Dudley Warner gives us a delightful glimpse of the "Festival of Tapers," in an Italian church, with its rollicking, mischievous, irreverent, but entrancingly beautiful and melodious choir-boys; Mrs. Oliphant contributes the first of her papers on "Windsor Castle," containing some very interesting details of its early history; and there is given us toward the close of the number, a story of Egyptian life.

The series of "Talks with Girls" is begun with a charming "bit of talk" from Louisa M. Alcott, whose words are always welcome to the girls, and always worth their hearing; and Rebecca Harding Davis furnishes one of the best stories in the number.

As for other contributions, there is the usual fullness and variety, from the funny poem of "Shark," to Mr. Rideing's fine description of "The New York Fire Department," and Mrs. Mary Treat's simple bit of science, "The Floscule;" while of all the beautiful illustrations we can only mention Mr. Alfred Frederick's exquisite picture of "The Fairy King and his Daughters Three." Last of all, the boys and girls will find the long expected answer to the "Prize Puzzle," and the awarding of the prizes.

John Greenleaf Whittier, Bayard Taylor, Charles Dudley Warner, Mrs. Oliphant, Louisa M. Alcott, Rebecca Harding Davis, Amerelia P. Hale—surely these names are a guarantee of the interest of a single number of any periodical!

THE ATLANTIC MONTHLY.

The Atlantic Monthly for March is a more than usually good number. It begins with a poem by Thomas Bailey Aldrich which will be read with pleasure. Mr. Fiske continues his speculations on the Unseen Universe and concludes that while molecular action of the brain and thought may occur at the same time we have no reason to regard them as the same, and that the absence of evidence in favor of the existence of an unseen world does not create even a prima facie case against the belief in such a world, because in the nature of the case there can be no evidence. Mr. Perry contributes a critical article on Victor Cherbuliez. Frances Anne Kemble continues her interesting Old Woman's Gossip. The Carnival of Rome and The Welsh in America are treated of and there are verses by Celia Thaxter, Oliver Wendell Holmes, Annie R. Annan, C. P. Cranch and Edgar Fawcett.

Mr. Howells's story, Private Theatricals, is rather dramatic in this number. The quarrel between Easton and Gilbert approaches the tragic. As a delineator of character, Mr. Howells is a genius. His comprehension of feminine character and his ability to portray it are remarkable, and are envied as much in Mrs. Gilbert and the other ladies as in Mrs. Farrell, about whom of course, the story centers. The chapter ends leaving in the mind of the reader a suspicion that the blase Mr. Gilbert may prove to be but little better able to resist the fascinations of Mrs. Farrell than was the unsophisticated Mr. Easton.

Henry Carey Baird contributes a paper on Money and its Substitutes which is intended to prove that what the country needs to develop its resources, and what the poor man needs to protect him against the bloated bond holder, is paper money; unredeemable in gold or anything else, except 3.65 bonds, payable principle and interest in this same paper money. The volume of this currency is to be commensurate with the needs of commerce. Mr. Baird gives us no hint of how great the needs are, but Congress is to determine from time to time how much "money" is to be issued. This irredeemable paper money is to be based on the wealth of the nation, whatever that means. If a currency is made legal tender it is sufficient. It will answer all the purposes of money without having any intrinsic value, or any relation to anything that has intrinsic value.

Mr. Adams's paper on The State and the Railroads is very valuable. It gives a brief and clear view of the railroad systems now existing in England, Belgium, France and Germany. Next month Mr. Adams will apply the experience of foreign nations to our own railroad system.

The literary and art notices will be found interesting. The review of Mr. Browning's Inn Album is of some length, very well written, and decidedly unfavorable.

A Suggestion to the Nervous.

Robust people who have, all their lives, eaten, digested and slept well, can scarcely be expected to appreciate the blessing of strong nerves as well as those who, having undergone all the misery entailed by weak ones, have creditably regained their nerve power. In order to experience the unspeakable relief of a change from an enfeebled and unrestful to a vigorous and tranquil condition of the nervous system, the nervous invalid should try a course of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Under the bracing and soothing influence of that benign tonic and nervine, appetite returns, digestion becomes complete and painless, and sleep revisits weary eyes. The causes of nervous weakness are to be found in imperfect digestion and assimilation, and the feeble performance of other vital functions resulting therefrom. The Bitters remove these causes, as well as the nervous symptoms which they produce. fb23-1w-n&j

Beyond Valuation.

The worth of any invention which obviates or mitigates the loss of any of the natural senses cannot be measured by dollars or cents. Of this character are the "Diamond Spectacles" manufactured by the Spencer Optical Manufacturing Company of New York, and sold by their agents throughout the country. These goods are scientifically made from the best possible material and have been proved to be of the greatest possible service to those who would prevent the loss of eyesight, or restore the clearness of vision which has already been impaired.

LYON'S KATHAIRON prevents the Hair from falling out or turning gray, renews its growth, and gives strength and vigor. It is delightfully perfumed, and makes a splendid dressing. It is the cheapest and most desirable Hair Tonic ever produced. Used by the elite. Price only 50 cents. aug3-1yr.

CONSUMPTIVES, TAKE NOTICE.—Every moment of delay makes your cure more hopeless, and much depends on the judicious choice of a remedy. The amount of testimony in favor of Dr. Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup, as a cure for consumption, far exceeds all that can be brought to support the pretensions of any other medicines. See Dr. Schenck's Almanac, containing the certificates of many persons of the highest respectability, who have been restored to health after being pronounced incurable by physicians of acknowledged ability. Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup alone has cured many, as these evidences will show; but the cure is often promoted by the employment of two other remedies which Dr. Schenck provides for the purpose. These additional remedies are Schenck's Sea Weed Tonic and Mandrake Pills. By the timely use of these medicines, according to directions, Dr. Schenck certifies that most any case of consumption may be cured.

Dr. Schenck is professionally at his principal office, corner Fifth and Arch streets, Philadelphia, every Monday, where all letters for advice must be addressed. feb1-1m

Newport Daily News.

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 23, 1876.

GENERAL NEWS

FROM WASHINGTON.

Senator Bruce of Mississippi Still Denouncing the Administration.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22.

Senator Bruce still bitterly denounces the administration for faithlessness toward the negroes of the South, and in conversation this evening he declared that the President could not carry a single Southern state. He said that if his people were to be left to their own defence they would fight to the death rather than surrender their liberties. He made no threats of going over to the Democrats, nor hinted at his probable course, but there are indications that he favors Morton.

Suspension of Business.

Public business was entirely suspended today, and people generally gave themselves up to the celebration of the day, either here or in Alexandria, to which place thousands were attracted from this city.

Democratic Finance Committee.

The Democratic caucus finance committee had another session today, but the opposing factions still refuse to harmonize or compromise.

FROM NEW YORK.

Richard B. Irwin Arrested for Embezzlement.

NEW YORK, Feb. 22.

Richard B. Irwin, the former agent of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company, was arrested today on complaint of Rufus Hatch, managing director of that company, on the charge of having embezzled $750,000, the property of the Pacific Mail Company. A warrant for Irwin's arrest was issued by Justice Dixby. Irwin demanded an examination as soon as possible, and said his hands were clean of any theft or wrong to the Pacific Mail Company. Mr. Dun of Dun's mercantile agency went Irwin's bail for $50,000. The examination is fixed for Thursday next.

ANDERSONVILLE.

THE HORRORS OF THE STOCKADE PROVED FROM CONFEDERATE OFFICIAL REPORTS.

Ex-Speaker Blaine can plume himself upon his success in evoking the latent hostility of prominent Confederates both in and out of Congress. The developments in the House of Representatives, which resulted from his speech upon amnesty, are almost paralleled by the exhibitions of bad temper and unreconstructed opinion made by the late president of the Confederacy, Jeff Davis, in a letter replying to Mr. Blaine, and just published. Jeff is mad from the crown of his head to the sole of his boot, and raves at Blaine as though he would like to have him in some prison pen more noisome if possible than Andersonville. Jeff admits the "suffering and death of the Federal prisoners" held by the Confederates, but claims that the causes were beyond their control. How was it at Andersonville? The Republic Magazine publishes some statements that will decide that point. First is the testimony of Colonel T. D. Chandler, the Confederate assistant adjutant general and inspector general of military prisons, contained in a report which he submitted to the Jeff Davis cabinet, after making a personal inspection of the Andersonville prison. Among other things this report, dated "Andersonville, Jan. 5, 1864," contained the following:

"Having, in obedience to instructions of the 25th ultimo, carefully inspected the prison for Federal prisoners of war and post at this place, I respectfully submit the following report: The Federal prisoners of war are confined within a stockade fifteen feet high, of roughly hewn pine logs about eight inches in diameter, inserted five feet into the ground; enclosing, including the recent extension, an area of 540 by 260 yards. A railing around the inside of the stockade, and about twenty feet from it, constitutes the "dead line," beyond which the prisoners are not allowed to pass, and about three and one quarter acres near the centre of the enclosure are so marshy as to be at present unfit for occupation, reducing the present available area to about twenty three and one-half acres, which gives somewhat less than six square feet to every prisoner. Even this is being constantly reduced by the additions to their number. A small stream passing from west to east through the enclosure, at about one hundred and fifty yards from its southern limit, furnishes the only water for washing accessible to the prisoners. Some regiments of the guard, the bakery and the cook house being placed on the rising grounds bordering the stream before it enters the prison, renders the water nearly unfit for use before it enters the prison."

On the 5th of August, same year, colonel Chandler again appealed to Jeff Davis and his cabinet, in which he recommended the removal of General Winder, the commandant, in the following language:

"My duty requires me respectfully to recommend a change in the officer in command of the post, Brigadier General J. H. Windor, and the substitution in his place of some one who unites both energy and good judgment with some feeling of humanity and consideration for the welfare and comfort (so far as is consistent with their safe keeping) of the vast number of unfortunates placed under his control; some one who, at least, will not advocate deliberately and in cold blood the propriety of leaving them in their present condition until their number has been sufficiently reduced by death to make the present arrangement for their accommodation; who will not consider it a matter of self laudation and boasting that he has never been inside the stockade, a place the horrors of which it is difficult to describe, and which is a disgrace to civilization; the condition of which he might, by the exercise of a little energy and good judgment, even with the limited means at his command, have considerably improved."

Such was the condition of the pen and the prisoners when Colonel Chandler brought the matter to the attention of the Confederate cabinet and officials. His report reached Jeff Davis, and he wrote upon the back of it, "This is uncalled for," and took no further notice of the matter.

PERSONALS.

.....The widow of the noted and eccentric Peter Cartwright, the Methodist Episcopal preacher, died very suddenly in a religious meeting in Pleasant Plains, Illinois, a few days ago.

.....Attorney-General Pierrepont is catching it all along the line for his instructions to district attorneys respecting state's evidence. It has the look to most people as if Mr. P. did not adopt in its fullest sense the Presidential injunction, let no guilty person escape.

.....Mrs. Moulton is to join Dr. Storrs' church. A Beecherite and an anti bet a suit of clothes on the opinions of the passengers of a Brooklyn ferry boat, the other morning, and the count was: Beecher believed guilty by 71; Beecher believed not guilty, 23; declined an opinion, 21.

.....A prominent Wisconsin German is quoted as saying that if the Republican party wants the solid German vote of the country—Schurz and all—it has only to nominate Elihu B. Washburne. The man who took care of the Germans in Paris would scoop 'em all in. As between Blaine and a Democrat, Wisconsin is a doubtful state, but Uncle Elihu can carry it against any Democrat living.

.....The Chicago Tribune professes to have some new facts in regard to revelations that are to be made in the Babcock trial by Joyce, one of the convicted conspirators, who is now in prison. The story is that Joyce has quietly opened negotiations with Mr. Dyer, offering to pan out a perfect bonanza of Babcock telegrams and letters on the single condition that the government shall not oppose his application for release under habeas corpus. This report, whether true or not remains to be seen, but recalls the singular report about damaging documents in the possession of Mrs. McKee, the wife of the editor of the Globe-Democrat, and which she proposes to put into the hands of the government in case their surrender will release her husband from the penitentiary.

The Parson's Daughter—"I'm glad to hear that you don't object to a few candles being placed on the altar these dark evenings, Mrs. Brown!" The Sextoness—"Bless you, Miss, I see they wasn't Roman candles—only composites!"—[Punch.

What time is it, James?
I heard Smith say,
As they stopped on the street
To shake hands and pass day:
The obliging James
Pulled at his fob,
Was so amazed at the dial,
That he said with a sob,
"I've carried this watch
For ten years or more,
And I never knew
It to act so before;"
"Why! what—"
Was all Smith had said
Before James turned to,
As if 'twas lead;
On his palm, on his heel
He gave it a rap,
And in his excitement
On the pavelet it "crap;"
"There," said his friend,
As he picked up, where it dropped,
The time, which for ten years
Never had stopped;
You'll find that this will need repair.
Take it to Farrow's, Washington square.

FIRE ALARM REGULATIONS.

To send out an alarm:

Any person who discovers a fire is requested to immediately give the alarm by crying fire, and, going to the box nearest the fire, to send out a general alarm by procuring the key, unlocking the box, and firmly pulling the hook down, once only; then closing the door, being careful to see that it is locked, and returning the key.

The person sending out an alarm from a box is requested to remain near said box until the first engine arrives, to direct the firemen to the exact locality of the fire.

Cautions.

Never pull a box if the small gong inside is striking or the machinery of the box is heard running.

Do not pull a box for a fire seen at a distance, or unless you are aware of the locality of a fire.

Key holders are requested not to allow their keys to be taken except by responsible parties.

Bell Ringers.

Bell ringers are engaged to ring the following church bells in connection with the telegraph alarm:—

The First and North Baptist, United Congregational and Emmanuel with instructions to ring their respective bells for five minutes immediately after the telegraphic alarm has completed its four rounds.

Recall.

Nine blows upon the telegraphic alarm bells will indicate that the fire is out and that the services of the department are not required.

Testing the Apparatus.

One stroke on the bells by the telegraphic alarm will simply indicate that the apparatus is in good order.

SUNDRIES.

Anybody can plead hard times, but few can plead them as did a Boston churchman, who made them his excuse for doubling his benevolent contributions on the ground that there were so many others this year who couldn't give at all.

An out township debating society has decided—and none too soon—that it is a breach of etiquette for a man, after eating his dinner, to lean back in his chair, prop both legs upon the table, and pick his teeth with a fork, in the presence of ladies. The president said a man who couldn't content himself with one leg on the table, and a civilized tooth-pick, shouldn't be tolerated in good society, and a majority of the members concurred.—[Shelby (Ky.) Republican.

A little school-girl asked her teacher what was meant by "Mrs. Grundy." The teacher replied that it meant "the world." Some days afterward the teacher asked the geography class to which this little "bud of promise" belonged, "What is a zone?" After some hesitation, this little girl brightened up, and replied, "I know; it's a belt around Mrs. Grundy's waist."

The Greeks characterized human follies and absurdities by such phrases as "He ploughs the air"; "He is making clothes for fishes"; "He catches the wind with a net"; "He roasts snow in a furnace"; "He holds a looking glass to a mole"; "He is teaching iron to swim"; "He is teaching a pig to play on a flute"; "He seeks wool on an ass"; "He washes the Ethiopian."

Edward Palmer had been employed to erect stocks in which to punish offenders. Having brought in his bill for the wood work, amounting to £1 13s 7d., the court decided that it was exorbitant, and instead of drawing an order on the treasurer for its payment, they ordered him to be set in said stocks for half an hour and to pay a fine of £5.—[History of Boston.

When visiting an old acquaintance, a farmer, at a time when albums were all the rage, a well known wit was handed by the daughter a superannuated account book, ruled for pounds, shillings and pence, in which he was requested to write something pretty for her; with which request he complied in the following manner:

This world's a scene as dark as Styx,
Where hope is scarce worth		2	6
Our joys are borne so fleeting hence
That they are dear at			18

"Jennie June" relates this reminiscence of her life at Southbridge, Mass.: "I had only one enemy in Southbridge, to my knowledge, and that was an elderly deacon's wife. The way it came about was this: I was my nephew's teacher, as well as my brother's housekeeper, and on one occasion, when we had been invited to dine in state at her house, she called out to Egbert in a high voice from her end of the table, 'Sonny, won't you have some puddin'?' and to the horror and consternation of his papa and myself, the terrible infant replied, quite as loudly, 'I guess if you lived at our house my aunt would make you say pudding.' I am sure at that moment I wished grammar and correct pronunciation were with truth at the bottom of a well, but it was of no avail. Going home, my reverend brother remarked, 'It will never be forgiven, Jennie,'—and he proved to be right; it never was."

"Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unanimadverable proof of great talent and ability as has just been made me to recommend any inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents; as they may be sure of having the most talented attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
